“ Words cannot express my sadness my heart is so heavy right now to know her was to love her. She was such a loving, kind and compassionate person. She made me a part of her family and I became her daughter Lord you know how much I love her but you knew it was time for her to leave us. I will never forget her last words to me was I love you not knowing that would be the last time i heard her speak. Lord I pray that you speak peace and give us strength through this difficult time. Lord keep your arms around my sister Dee Dee and protect her, strengthen her. She will need you in days to come.

Love you Sis

She was my mentor, my friend and my other mother. We were proud of being Jack Yates High School alumni. She was one of a kind, and was even Ms. JACK YATES in the day. Though we weren't close in age, I had a Warrior and a Soldier who prayed for me and I prayed for her, and with her. I'm going to miss those calls, she would say "Dr.", and I would respond Madam President or Professor...Lol.. We had lots of laughs and serious moments as well. There are NO WORDS to Express this empty space in my life. I called several times before she passed, and when she didn't Respond I knew it wasn't good. I prayed and cried and cried and prayed for a week. Then Deidre sent me a text, confirming my thoughts. I have not come to grips, with not having her to bounce ideas, off of. GOD already knew and had a place already prepared for Her. She kept the FAITH, she's finished her course. She is somewhere Rejoicing with her granddaughter around God's Throne...in eternal GLORY. GOD Comfort the Family. Let Deidre know, "IT IS WELL WITH HER SOUL".
